大语言模型(LLM)使用目标

AI是什么？

- 我们常说的AI，往往指的是大语言模型（Large Language Models，简称LLM）是一种由包含数百亿以上参数的深度神经网络构建的语言模型，使用自监督学习方法通过大量无标注文本进行训练。其目标是理解和生成人类语言，以便进行有效的对话、回答各种问题、完成文本分类、摘要、翻译等多种自然语言处理任务。

英语课用AI干什么？

- 搜索字、词、句
- 理解课文
- 理解商务知识概念
- 制定学习方案
- 获取学习资源（音视频）

CO-STAR 结构化 提示词 撰写框架

C (Context, 上下文):

- 为提示词提供相关背景信息，帮助模型理解你的具体需求。

O (Objective, 目标):

- 明确你希望AI实现的目标或输出。

S (Scope, 范围):

- 设定边界，描述你不需要的内容，限制输出的范围。

T (Tone, 语气):

- 说明你想要输出的语气或风格，例如“专业的”、“幽默的”或“简洁的”。

A (Audience, 受众):

- 告诉AI你面向的读者是谁，以便调整语言和内容。

R (Resources, 资源):

- 如果有特定的材料或数据集可以参考，建议补充说明。

LLM提问举例

简单提问：

请帮我生成一段3-5分钟的英文演讲稿，主题是介绍一个你喜欢的APP/软件/工具/游戏。

CO-STAR框架撰写的提问：

我是一名大一新生，需要在英语课上做一段个人演讲，主题是介绍一个我喜欢的APP/工具/软件/游戏。我的英语基础中等，词汇量不是很大，所以我想做一个更突出个人特色、真情实感的演讲。我想介绍的APP是欧路词典，我非常喜欢它，因为它的功能全面、能够自定义本地词典，还能够保存生词表，给我自定义的用户体验。特别是付费的版本能够提供更多专业的服务，极大地提高了我的英语学习效率。请你根据以上信息，给我生成一段5分钟左右的英文演讲脚本，词汇量和句子表达不需要很复杂。

Ladies and gentlemen,

Today, I am honored to stand here and introduce to you an app that I truly love – Doubao.

Doubao is an intelligent language assistant that has brought great convenience and value to my life. It offers a wide range of functions and services.

First and foremost, it is extremely useful for knowledge acquisition. Whenever I have a question about any subject, be it history, science, technology, or literature, Doubao can provide accurate and detailed answers. It helps me expand my knowledge horizon and understand various concepts more deeply. Whether I'm preparing for an exam, doing research for a project, or simply satisfying my curiosity, Doubao is always there to offer reliable information.

Moreover, Doubao is excellent for language learning. It can correct my grammar mistakes, offer suggestions on vocabulary usage, and even help me with translations. This has been a huge boon for me as I strive to improve my language skills.

In addition, Doubao is very user-friendly. The interface is clean and intuitive, making it easy for me to navigate and use. Whether I'm using it on my mobile phone or computer, the experience is seamless.

Finally, Doubao is constantly evolving and improving. The developers are always working hard to enhance its capabilities and add new features, ensuring that users like me can continue to benefit from its services.

In conclusion, Doubao is an amazing app that has become an indispensable part of my life. It has helped me in so many ways, from learning and research to language improvement and problem-solving. I highly recommend it to everyone who is looking for a powerful and useful tool. Thank you!

Slide 1: Introduction

Hello everyone! Today I want to introduce an app that I really like - Eudic. As a freshman, I am always looking for useful tools to help me with my studies. And Eudic has become an indispensable part of my learning journey.

Slide 2: What is Eudic?

Eudic is a dictionary app. It has many useful features that make it stand out from other dictionary apps. For example, it has a comprehensive set of functions. It allows me to customize local dictionaries according to my own needs. This means I can add dictionaries that are more suitable for my level and interests.

Slide 3: Save New Words

Another great feature of Eudic is that it can save my new words. Whenever I come across a new word while reading or studying, I can easily add it to my word list. This helps me review and remember these words more efficiently. It gives me a customized user experience and makes my learning more personalized.

Slide 4: Paid Version

The paid version of Eudic offers even more professional services. Although it costs a little money, it is definitely worth it. With the paid version, I can access more detailed explanations, example sentences, and pronunciation guides. This greatly improves my English learning efficiency.

Slide 5: Conclusion

In conclusion, Eudic is an amazing app that has helped me a lot in my English learning. Its comprehensive functions, customizability, and ability to save new words make it a great tool for students like me. If you are also looking for a good dictionary app to improve your English, I highly recommend giving Eudic a try. Thank you!

Concepts about COMPANIES

Warming up

2

Read the words or phrases and their explanations. Then complete the following paragraph with the words or phrases. Change the form when necessary.

There are many different types of companies. Most large corporations are public limited or joint-stock companies, which means that shareholders who wish to invest in the company can buy and sell parts of the company on the stock exchange. Many are multinationals with subsidiaries and assets in various different countries and they generally engage in mergers with other companies and acquisitions in order to expand. However, large corporations are increasingly under threat from the growing number of dotcoms set up by entrepreneurs.

Business knowledge

Company types

Company types

1. Multinational

A multinational corporation (MNC) is usually a large corporation incorporated in one country which produces or sells goods or services in various countries. The two main characteristics of MNCs are their large size and the fact that their worldwide activities are centrally controlled by the parent companies.

2. Partnership

Partnership is a type of unincorporated business organization in which multiple individuals, called general partners, manage the business and are equally liable for its debts; other individuals called limited partners may invest but not be directly involved in management and are liable only to the extent of their investments. In a partnership, each partner shares equal responsibility for the company's profits and losses, and its debts and liabilities.

3. Sole proprietorship

A sole proprietorship, also known as the sole trader or simply a proprietorship, is a type of enterprise that is owned and run by one natural person and in which there is no legal distinction between the owner and the business entity. The owner is in direct control of all elements and is legally accountable for the finances of such business and this may include debts, loans, loss, etc.

I. Multinational 跨国公司

- Incorporated (adj.) 成为股份制公司
- Produces or sells goods or services in various countries

2. Which type of companies do you think is going to lead the future? Would you like to work in such companies? And why?

Reading

Read the passage for 2 minutes on your own.

Question:

- What is the structure of this passage? (paragraphs)

Part 1: Paragraph 1-3: Background and questions

Part 2: Paragraph 4-7: Three answers and another perspective.

- What does the title “a matter of choice” refer to?

It refers to the increasing importance of choice in shaping the future of companies and the business environment.

Specifically:

- Consumers have more choices in how they spend their money.
- Producers have more choices in selecting suppliers.
- Shareholders have more choices in where to invest their money.

Understanding the text 2 (Group work)

1 What were the characteristics of US corporations in the past?

2 What changes have occurred to those corporations?

3 What is meant by “Most have shifted their production systems from high-volume to high value...?” in Paragraph 3?

4 What different types of future companies does the author mention?

5 Why does the author believe there is not one definite type of future companies?

6 What does the author believe to be the key to survival for companies in future?

Group 1: Paragraph 1-3.

Group 2: Paragraph 4-7.

Feedbacks from the survey

1. 本学期，你课表中除了商英一以外的其他英语类课程有：[多选题]

- 分析结论：

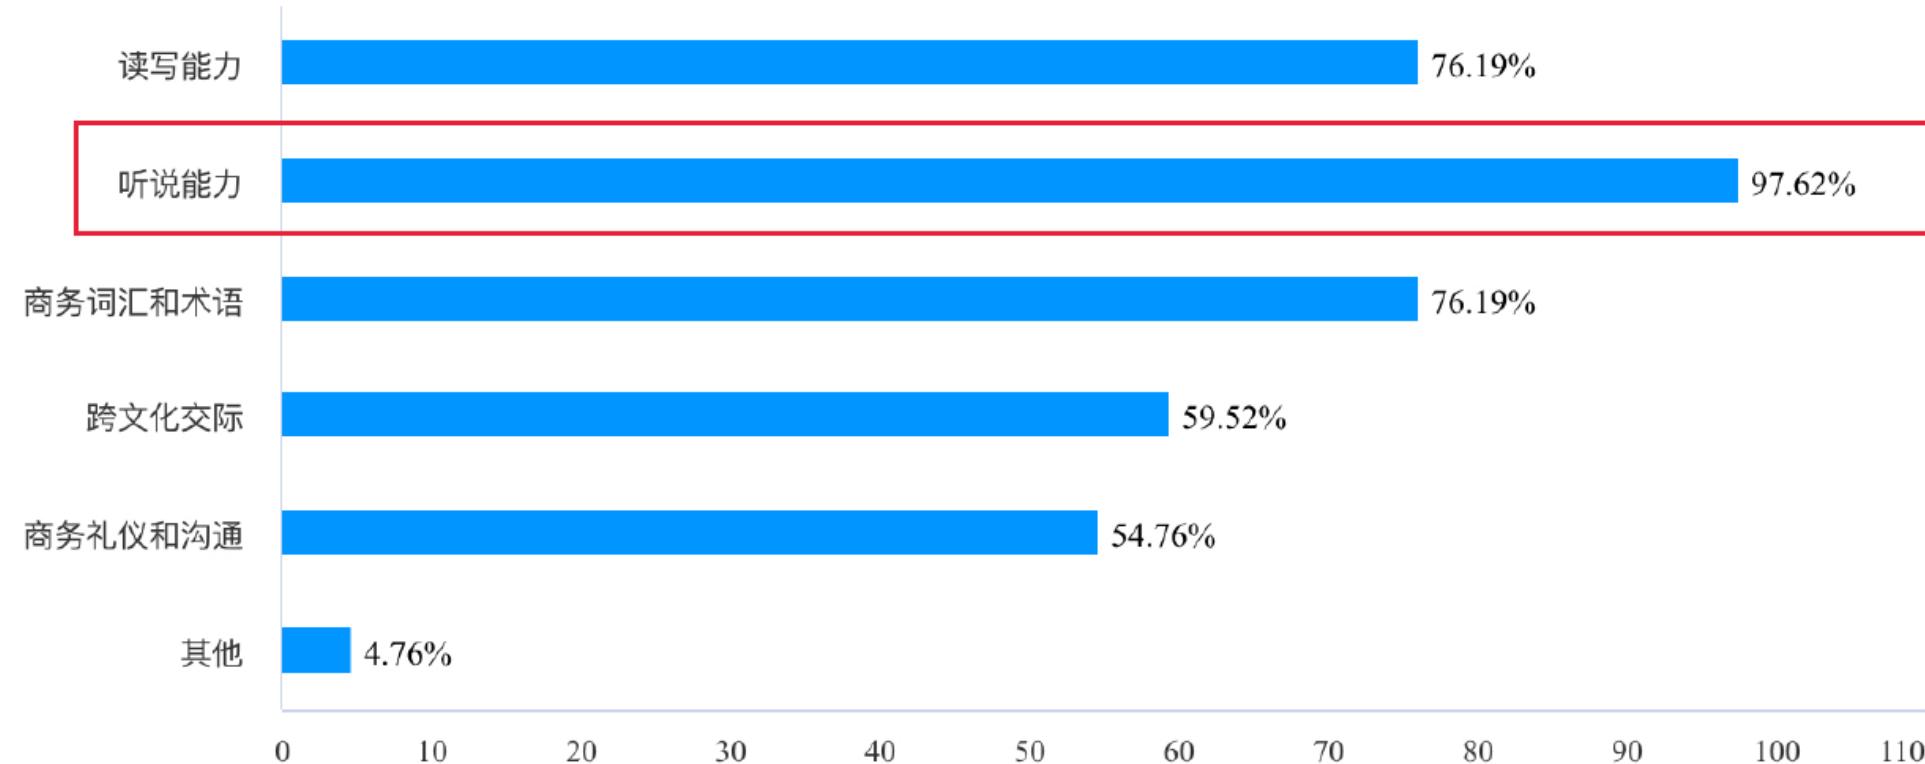

最多人选择“口语”课程，占比23.81%，其次是“其他”课程，占比40.48%。

“没有了”选项占比最高，达到45.24%，说明有相当一部分人除了商英一外没有选择其他英语类课程。

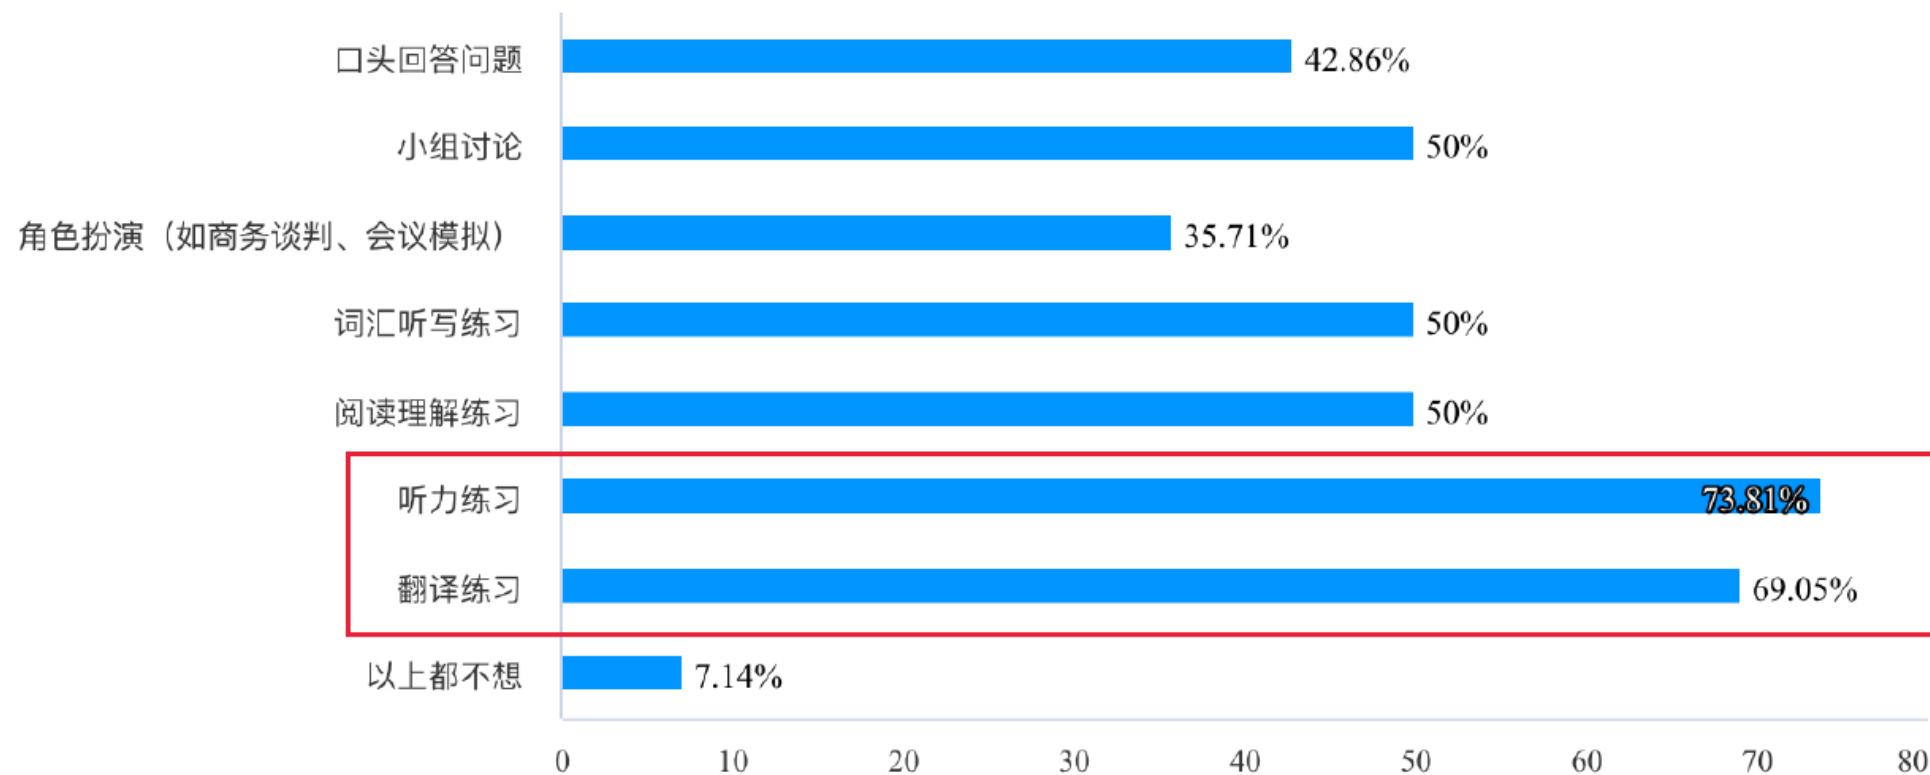

- 建议学校在开设英语类课程时，增加口语、写作和阅读课程的种类和数量，以满足学生的需求。同时，可以考虑设计吸引人的其他英语类课程，提高学生的学习积极性。

Understanding the text 2 (Group work)

1 What were the characteristics of US corporations in the past?

They were hierarchical or bureaucratic organizations making long runs of standardized products. They improved products instead of innovating, provided lifelong employment, and enjoyed good industrial relations.

Group 1

2 What changes have occurred to those corporations?

Giant corporations disappeared / were transformed. They changed from high volume to high value, from standardized to customized.

There are flatter hierarchies and less lifelong employment.

3 What is meant by “Most have shifted their production systems from high-volume to high value...?” in Paragraph 3?

High volume = mass produced.

High value = smaller quantity with a larger profit margin.

- ( F ) 3 Giant corporations were transformed from high-value to high-volume, from customized to standardized.
- ( F ) 4 The author believes that big companies are a thing of the past. The future belongs to small Internet companies.
- ( F ) 5 The best way to look at the future of the company is to focus on the environment that will determine it.

Understanding the text 3

The modern company is heading for three directions. The first is that a handful of giant companies are engaged in a(n) silent takeover of the world. A record number of mergers happened in the past couple of decades. The send school of though argues that big companies are a thing of the past. Monorail Corporation, which sells computers, owns no factories, warehouses or any other tangible assets. The third school of though says that companies are being replaced by net-works. Groups of entrepreneurs form such a network to market an idea. They then sell it to the highest bidder and move on to produce another idea and to create another firm, with the money being supplied by venture capitalists.

What might the company of the future look like?

Lawrence Summers, president of Harvard University, suggests in the latest Harvard Business Review that the American research university, e.g. Harvard, might be a model from the company of the future. He does not mean that firms should set off their own “universities.” Instead, they should adopt the research university’s fluid and decentralized approach to creativity and hierarchy.

Certainly, there are aspects of the university that firms might envy. They are, to start with, extraordinarily durable institutions. Mr. Summers’ own Harvard, found in 1636, is very young compared with the University of Bologna, founded on 1088, or Paris and Oxford born less than a century late.

They are all huge successful: There are far more of them, and far more students, than ever before. In the rich world alone, 39m people are now take a university course of one sort or another. Anyone tempted to mock McDonald’s Hamburger University should look at the classes in food technology and catering that plenty of modern universities now provide. The successful university has other characteristics that firms increasing aspire to. For example, it gathers, under a single powerful brand, individuals contracted to supply it with their intelligent. Moreover, the deals struck by the more successful academics when they transfer from one university to another are becoming more lucrative, with all sort of perks regarded as normal.

C: Thank you, Sue.

S: We continue our series on the challenges facing today's business schools and how well they prepare their students for the real needs of the commercial world. Today we're focusing on Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University. Chris, is it true that the Kellogg is considered America's top business school?

C: That's right, according to Business Week. And it's also rated the world's best by the Economist Intelligence Unit. It's got an excellent reputation not just amongst large international corporations who pay for all their senior staff to attend the school—but also among small and medium-sized enterprises, who sponsor maybe one or two key members of staff—and also with start-up companies, where the boss and founder of the company might fund his or her own studies.

S: What areas do the students traditionally work in?

1 Challenges facing Kellogg

- recruitment procedure change in reaction against management elite
- a big gap between what graduates of business schools can offer and what companies need

2 Changes to courses at Kellogg

- allow students to specialize sooner
- mandatory course: leadership in times of crisis
- new courses: ethics, business in its social environment

3 Other changes at Kellogg

- marketing rebranding, covering problems of traditionally MBA with focus on social responsibility
- Mr. Jain devoted time to establishing and maintaining contacts with companies and potential employers

Script (Listening 2)

S: I hear that today's business school market is very tough. So, what kind of challenges are institutions like Kellogg facing?

C: Well, Sue, MBA students can no longer turn up for interviews certain that they'll receive a top job offer. Maybe this is partly because of a general reaction against a management elite after all the corporate scandals in recent years. But the stronger reason is probably because there's thought to be a big gap between what graduates of business schools can offer and what companies actually need.

S: You mean in terms of graduates' ability to actually apply the knowledge and skills they've acquired?

C: Yes. That's one reason why Kellogg has made some changes to its courses recently. One aim is to allow students to specialize sooner, hopefully making them more useful to employers. And another key change, reflecting the reality of business life, is that a class on leadership in times of crisis, which used to be optional, is now mandatory. Oh, and there are also a few new courses, for example on ethics and business in its social environment.

S: Well, that still doesn't seem to be a radical change!

C: I think you're right. Some people say that Mr. Jain, the Dean of Kellogg, has simply been doing a bit of marketing rebranding. You know, covering up any problems of the traditional MBA with a fashionable focus on social responsibility. But maybe that's a bit unfair. Kellogg is still top of the rankings and sets the standards.

S: You mean Kellogg is one of the top schools—in terms of what? The number of job placements and starting salaries for its graduates?

C: Yes. The job market's got tougher for MBA graduates. But Mr. Jain's efforts to find work for students compare very favorably with those of some of his counterparts. He's devoted a lot of his time to establishing and maintaining contacts with companies and potential employers. I've even heard that his staff struggle to keep up with the pace at which he travels the world building the Kellogg brand. I was talking to one of the lecturers there the other day and he thought ...
